Adolescent Schizophrenia Research Study

The chance to make a difference...

...is in your hands

Does your teenager currently express symptoms of schizophrenia?

He or she may be eligible for a research study being conducted in our area evaluating an investigational medication for teenagers with active symptoms of schizophrenia.

Qualified participants must:

- be between 13 and 17 years of age
- be diagnosed with schizophrenia; or currently have symptoms of schizophrenia such as believing or experiencing things that are not really true, and having disorganized/unusual thoughts
- meet additional study criteria

Participants will receive all study-related medicine and study-related care at no cost.

Health insurance is not needed.
