Time: 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Where: Live Interactive Webinar

Registered participants will receive an e-mail with instructions on how to join the session.

Objectives: Participants will be able to:

1. Discuss the theory and principles of the UDL framework.
2. Apply the UDL framework to instructional design.
3. Select helpful resources for continuing to learn and implement UDL.

This session offers an introduction to the Universal Design for Learning (UDL) framework as a method for designing inclusive learning environments. UDL is cited as a means for improving inclusive instruction in multiple laws and policies at both the national and state levels. By offering students flexible means of learning, schools can be more responsive to individual student needs and help unlock every student's potential.

Instructional Level: Introductory

Who Should Attend? Educators, Paraprofessionals, Support and other school staff, Psychologists, Social workers, Counselors, Medical staff, Speech/Language therapists, Occupational therapists, Physical therapists, Organizational leaders, Community members, and Students/trainees.
