

Being the Best Advocate for Your Child with a Disability at School and in the Community

Dr. Mirian Ofonedu, Ph.D., LCSW-C is the Director of Training at the Maryland Center for Developmental Disabilities and an Associate Professor at the University of Maryland Baltimore (UMB) School of Graduate Studies and the Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health, Department of Mental Health. She is also Maryland's Master Trainer for the ACT Raising Safe Kids, a program developed and sponsored by the American Psychological Association. Click to read presenter's bio.

Date: Thursday, September 12, 2024

Time: 12:30 – 2 p.m.

Cost: Free but registration is required

Location: Free Live Interactive Webinar
Registered Participants will receive an e-mail with instructions on how to join the session.

Learning Objectives: Participants will be able to:

1. Understand what effective parental advocacy means and its benefits.
2. Learn strategies on how to effectively work with school staff to meet your child's support needs.
3. Recognize ways to build and sustain home, school and community partnerships and collaboration on early assessment and intervention.
4. Learn about available resources at school and in the community.

This session is sponsored by the Department of Special Education, Baltimore County Public Schools in collaboration with the Maryland Center for Developmental Disabilities at Kennedy Krieger Institute.

Parents and families play an important role in how well children do in school and in the community. They are the first agents at identifying children's strengths and concerns, opening doors to support and services, and ensuring that those doors remain open to meet their children's needs.

Instructional Level: Introductory

To register; CLICK or scan the QR code. Register Early. Space is limited.

For more information or to request accommodations or assistance for individuals with disabilities, please email us at Training.MCDD@KennedyKrieger.org or contact us by phone at 443-923-4114. Requests should be made as soon as possible but at least seven days prior to the scheduled meeting.

