ommun Awareness Education Outreach Follow up Empowerment Response Learning from each other . . .

The MCPD Autism/IDD/Alzheimer's Outreach Program, as part of it's layered approach to awareness and safety provides Autism/IDD/Alzheimer's education to all of our MCPD officers, caregivers, the community and individuals. The goal is to provide a safe, understanding and well informed community for those with Autism/IDD/ Alzheimer's to live and flourish.

The Montgomery County Department of Police have utilized the Project Lifesaver RF bracelet tracking program since 2004. The Autism/IDD/Alzheimer's Outreach Program guickly learned that tracking has to be the last step in the prevention of wandering/ elopement. Tracking is a good tool but only when coupled with the other safety measures. The goal is to hopefully prevent wandering/elopements in the first place. The bracelet is only placed once all possible safety measures, which are compiled in this brochure, are utilized.

Autism/IDD/Alzheimer's Wandering Prevention Safety Tips

- Install An Alarm of Some Type. Many times, caregivers are not aware that the loved one has left the home, especially during the evening hours when "sundowning" (waking at all hours of the night) is common. An alarm is also important during the day when caregivers may be distracted. If you can not afford a professionally installed alarm, magnetic door alarms are a good option as well. They are inexpensive and readily available. The alarm is attached with strong tape or a screw to either si de of a door frame. When the connections are separated (door opening) it gives off a high decibel alarm. They can be set to chime during hours when a door may be opened more frequently.
- ✓ Do Not Hesitate to CALL 911 Do Not Wait. In some instances, families will search for their missing loved ones alone and feel as if they can't call 911 for assistance. If you are searching beyond your yard, call 911. If the loved one is located soon after you call, just call back and let us know. Montgomery County Police handle 2-3 calls a week for critically at-risk individuals with Autism/IDD/Alzheimers. You are not alone in the sometimes struggle to keep your loved one safe in your home. Waiting to call 911 could lead to tragic results. Have a "script" prepared with pertinent information to relay to 911 call takers and responding officers. If your Autistic loved one will go into bodies of water, please notify the 911 operator.
- ✓ Identification. Make sure that the loved one has some type of identification on them at all times. Writing contact information in permanent ink on as much clothing as possible is a good, cheap idea. However, an ID bracelet is the best option, the rubber or silicone types are the best option. MCPD encourages families of individuals with Autism to have the wearer show the bracelet to officers in the community when feasible. This act creates an encounter with law enforcement when the wearer is not under stress. It can reinforce the idea that law enforcement are here to assist when needed. It also makes the officer aware of those with Autism that live in the area they work. The familiarization is so important for both the wearer and the officer.

- ✓ Informing. We encourage informing neighbors of the situation, if you feel comfortable doing so. We understand that some caregivers might not feel comfortable letting neighbors know that there is an issue. However, a tragedy may be prevented by making them aware of the potential dangers of your loved one wandering alone. You can provide the neighbors with a contact person's cell phone or request they call 911 in the event they think the loved one is in need of assistance.
- Consider Swim Lessons. For caregivers of children with Autism, teaching your child to swim early could absolutely save their life!

CALL 911 IMMEDIATELY IN THE EVENT OF AN ELOPEMENT!

DON'T WAIT TO CALL 911, we are your best tool in locating your loved one quickly. My loved one may do the following should they elope (bolt and run, not respond to name, go to bodies of water, etc.)

My loved one may go to the following destination should they elope (local parks, local businesses, bodies of water, pools, ponds, etc.)

If you encounter my child the following would be helpful for officers to know (they may bolt and run, they may not respond to their name, they may hide, etc.)

It is beneficial to responding officers that you are familiar with potential points of interest for your loved one as well as the locations of bodies of water, especially for individuals with Autism. Please print out and include with your 911 Script a Google map of the area around your home and pin point any potential dangers or possible destinations your loved one may be drawn towards in t he event of an elopement/wandering episode. Example: Nearby Bodies of Water; A = Our House (12345 Street).
