

Join the BRAINY Research Study and help us learn more about recovery from concussion

Seeking children 10-17 years old who have recently had a concussion, or have NEVER had a concussion, for a research study

We are recruiting two types of children to participate in a research study to learn about recovery from a concussion: (1) Children with a recent concussion and, (2) children who have never had a concussion, as uninjured comparison participants.

WHAT: Child will complete thinking tests and motor tasks and will have 3 brain Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI – does not involve radiation) scans. Parent will complete questionnaires.

Three 4-6 hour visits to Kennedy Krieger Institute are required. The second and third visits will be 3 and 12 months after visit one. Monthly surveys will be completed between visits.

WHERE: Kennedy Krieger Institute, Baltimore, MD

BENEFIT: There are no significant risks or direct medical benefits for participating in this study.

COMPENSATION: $50.00 gift card for each visit to Kennedy Krieger. $10.00 gift card for each MRI completed at study visits. $5.00 gift cards for completion of monthly questionnaires.

CONTACT: Brain Injury Research Line
Mickey Ellis-Stockley: 443-923-7987
EllisM@kennedykrieger.org

Brain Recovery After INjury in Youth (BRAINY)
Stacy Suskauer, M.D., Principal Investigator, IRB00145695
Kennedy Krieger Institute and Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions