

Brain Imaging in Down Syndrome

- Kennedy Krieger Institute and the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences is conducting a study of adults with down syndrome, age 21-75.
- The study involves behavioral testing and brain imaging. The study will be performed over up to five visits.
- Qualified people will participate at no cost to them. Compensation for time and transportation will be provided.

For more information, please call:

(410) 550-4192

IRB Protocol No: NA_00083831
Principal investigator: Gwenn Smith, PhD

JOHNS HOPKINS
M E D I C I N E