

SPINAL CORD INJURY MEDICINE (SCIM) FELLOWSHIP

A one-year, ACGME-accredited program based at Kennedy Krieger Institute and affiliated with Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

The program offers:

- Training focused on preventative interventions to mitigate secondary complications, while advancing day-to-day and neurologic function based on sound neuro-scientific principles
- Outpatient and inpatient rotations for pediatric and adult spinal cord injury (SCI) rehabilitation programs
- Work closely with physicians, physical and occupational therapists, case manager, social worker, mental health counselor, and resource utilization specialist who specialize in SCI care
- Mentor/mentee learning environment
- Clinical research opportunities
- All taught by SCIM-certified faculty

Training in:

- Urologic health (including urodynamic studies performance and assessment)
- Bone health management
- Spasticity management (including chemodenervation injections and intrathecal baclofen pump management)
- Musculoskeletal complications evaluation and management (including use of ultrasound for diagnosis or procedure guidance)

PLUS:

- No "on-calls"
- No weekends!
- All holidays off!
- Competitive salary and benefits package

Interested candidates should submit a letter outlining their personal goals and objectives and how they would pertain to this program, along with a current CV and three letters of recommendation, by September 1 to The International Center for Spinal Cord Injury • Attention: Amy Fawley, SCIM Fellowship Coordinator • 801 North Broadway, 5th floor • Baltimore, MD 21205

To submit electronically or for additional questions, email Fawley@KennedyKrieger.org.

For more information on the SCIM Fellowship, visit KennedyKrieger.org/Spine-Fellowship.

International Center for Spinal Cord Injury
at Kennedy Krieger Institute
Research. Restoration. Recovery.

Kennedy Krieger Institute recognizes and respects the rights of patients and their families and treats them with courtesy and dignity. Kennedy Krieger Institute provides care that preserves cultural, psychosocial, spiritual, and personal values, beliefs, and preferences. Care is free from discrimination based on age, race, ethnicity, religion, culture, language, physical or mental disability, socioeconomic status, sex, sexual orientation, and gender identity or expression including transgender. We encourage patients and families to become active partners in their care by asking questions, seeking resources, and advocating for the services and support they need.